Septuagenarians.

The celebration Tuesday evening at the New Church Hall at Fryeburg, of the 70th birthday anniversary of A. F. Lewis, esq., and incidentally that of thirteen other individuals who were born in 1834 in Fryeburg or vicinity, was a very pleasing occasion. The names of the other septuagenarians, all of whom were present, are William Gordon, Samuel C. Gordon, Gen. E. C. Farrington, Bradley B. Woodward, John Weston, Jas. W. Towle, George Booth, Abel F. Sanborn, Thomas J. Allard, Abbie N. Page, Alice J. Swan, Mrs. Julia Devine Page.

The attendance numbered nearly 400, and quite filled the hall, which had been tastefully decorated with garlands of flowers and potted plants for the occasion. The doors of the hall were thrown open at 7.30. The first feature of the program was the serving of choice refreshments, including three large bowls of punch, whose palatable contents were dispensed by a corps of gaily attired, and winsome ladies.

Alonzo Freeman Lewis was born June 23, 1834, one mile from Fryeburg village, in East Conway, N. H., but has lived in Fryeburg nearly 50 years. In early life he passed four or five years in Concord, N. H. He graduated from Fryeburg Academy and at Dartmouth college, entering with the class of 1862, although owing to trouble with his eyes he was not able to finish the regular course. Mr. Lewis has to a considerable degree pursued a literary career, supplemented with extensive travel in our own and foreign lands. He has been a correspondent of Portland, Boston, and New York papers, describing his travels at home and abroad. He was joint author with Luther H. Holden of an illustrated volume of 650 pages entitled "A Summer Jaunt Through the Old World," published in Boston in 1879. He published Webster's Fryeburg Oration and the Fryeburg Webster's Memorial in 1882, and in 1902, he published the Fryeburg Webster's Centennial, containing Mr. Lewis' historical address on Webster, together with much matter pertaining to Fryeburg and its interesting history.

Mr. Lewis was upon the lecture platform several years, describing his travels, speaking on Rome, London, Cuba, Salt Lake City and the Mormons, the Pacific Slope, and the Yosemite. He has passed several winters in Florida, in Cuba, and the last four in Washington, D. C., where he has delivered addresses before the Society of the Sons and Daughters of Maine, and the Sons and Daughters of New Hampshire.
 Mr. Lewis was chosen a delegate to the Republican National Convention which nominated James G. Blaine for President at Chicago in 1884. He is fond of music, is a good tenor singer, and a keen student of history and antiquarian affairs. He is a member of the Maine Historical Society, and an honorary member of the Webster Historical Society of Boston and of the Columbia Institute of Tennessee.

Among the letters, regrets at inability to be present were there from Senator Frye, Senator Hale, Senator Horr and Dr. Lyman Abbott. Original poems were sent for the occasion from friends from Maine to California.
 At the evening exercises A. F. Lewis presided and made the opening address. At its close he was presented with a handsome basket of flowers by Charlotte Thomas.
 Brief speeches followed from Thomas J. Allard of Conway, N. H., Samuel S. Gordon, Frank B. Sanborn of Concord, N. H., L. W. Small of New York, E. S. Osgood, Dr. S. C. Gordon, Charlotte Thomas of Portland, and others. Solos were sung by George Thomas of Portland and John Hutchinson of the famous family of singers. Mr. Lewis and Mrs. Hale Jacobs of Malden sang a duet. Mr. Lewis was presented with a large birthday cake.

Andover's Hundred Years.

The centennial of Andover, one of Oxford county's beautiful home towns, met with appropriate observance this week. On Sunday, Aug. 7, a special service was held, a centennial sermon of much ability and of practical value was preached in the Congregational church by Rev. W. R. Jackson of Providence, R. I., for some years a resident of Andover. Special music was given by the choir. The church was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting and over the chancel were the figures 1804-1904.

Wednesday was the great day for the town. Five hundred special invitations to former residents and their children were sent out and informal invitations included citizens of neighborhood towns. A parade led by Malcolm Gregg as marshal and the Andover band started at 9 o'clock and contained Grand Army men, Lane Mountain Grange, P. of H., Cabot Lodge, K. of P. and Ellis Glen Pythian Brotherhood, and other organizations. Floats decorated by the Knights of Pythias illustrating a degree, by the Grange showing ancient and modern farming materials and several business houses made a good display. A specially attractive float was the Goddess of Liberty, Florence Talbot and thirteen other young ladies representing the original state.

Downtown street to the Universalist church around the square and to the common the parade marched. At the latter place exercises were held of music and addresses.

The historical address was written by Henry V. Poor, the oldest resident of Andover and 82 years of age. His original poem by Mrs. Helen Hoffman of Dover, Cal.

A dinner of the fine quality that Andover's ladies' prepare, made up of beans and meats, with fine pastry was enjoyed by all the visitors. In the evening a display of rockets and candles was set off.

Maud Sawyer has been quite sick with sore throat, but is better now.

Hiram Edwards is in very poor health. He is suffering with kidney trouble.

WEST PORTER.

Lost in the Woods. Ernest and Hettie Varney went on Sawyer mountain blueberrying and on their return missed their way and stayed in the woods all night without a thing to eat except their berries. They traveled how far no one knows and it was a showery night and raining hard by spells so they were as wet as they could be. They came out near George Russell's about a mile from Huntress bridge, then they had four miles or more to walk to reach their home. They got home about nine the next morning, carrying about ten quarts of berries each.

Mrs. Olive French is quite sick at this writing.

Mrs. Samuel French is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Towle.

Quite a number went to Baldwin, Sunday, to the Advent camping.

Hand News to Correspondents. I have been much interested in the replies to "What do you think of the ADVERTISER?" It seems that local news is the drawing card. Well, local news is the well known local correspondent. They are willing and ready to report all news that may come to them, and as every neighborhood and almost every family have some one or more who are interested in what is going on among them, it seems to me that the least they can do is to hand the local correspondent (who is usually well known) items of interest and thus help along the local paper of which we are all proud, as well as keeping abreast of our own community.

The old homes. In the several towns that send news to the ADVERTISER there are a great many summer boarders and if those who care for them would send in lists of names every week or two it would be a means of showing what is being done in this corner of the State, as well as indirectly advertising their business, which would be getting what a great many of our Yankee people want—something for almost nothing, or at least very cheap. Items of interest that may be left in Box 13, Waterford P. O., will receive prompt attention.

Mrs. Holmes with her son of Lewiston is visiting her brother, Henry Wentworth.

Annie F. Wilson, the authoress, who is spending the summer with her mother, is being visited by her friend, Miss Brown of Boston.

Wm. Bolton of South Paris has just finished a fine job of grading and turling around Mrs. Doten's house. More extensive work will be done later in the season.

We have to thank our old friend, Major Stevens, for a nice mess of white perch taken by him from Long lake. The major knows how to catch fish and what to do with them afterward.

Dr. Gordon and family of Brooklyn, N. Y., are at the Lake House. The doctor is an expert with the rod and line and we shall expect to hear of big fish being taken. He has been recently at Four Ponds, where we presume he had his usual good luck.

NORTHWEST BETHEL. Severe Hall Storm. A smart hail storm but a few minutes duration visited us Monday forenoon. It thundered and lightened a good deal. The hail stones were of very uniform shape and size about as large as the old fashioned bird's egg bean.

Mrs. Leonard Sumner has returned home.

D. W. Mills, wife and son Francis was at this place the 11th.

Mrs. E. S. Skillings is spending the summer with her parents.

Mrs. R. L. Bennett was very sick last week with cholera morbus.

E. S. Mason is at Mason doing carpenter work for Mr. Blanchard.

Mrs. R. G. Stearns has been visiting with her relatives in Albany for some days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Chapman are enjoying their vacation by keeping house at the upper farm.

Mr. Yates, a missionary, has been spending some days as the guest of Rob Bennett and family.

H. Upton is harvesting such an abundant crop of hay as to necessitate building a new stack and putting it in it.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jacobus of Garden City, N. Y., and daughter Katherine are having their annual outing at "The Homestead."

GREENWOOD.

Trip to the Ice Caves. A party of twenty-four consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Amos F. Noyes, Harold Swift, Mattie Tubbs, Clarence Richard, son, Vivian Swift, Willie Yates, Ira Ring, Alvin Cole and wife, Grover Yates, Alma Hayes, Frank Hayes, Mildred Waterhouse, Irving Penley, Leona Penley, Susie Walker, Ernest Herriock and wife, stills and baby, Roy Penley and Eric Penley visited the Ice Caves last Sunday. A picnic dinner was eaten in the large cave called "The Kitchen." In one cave quite a quantity of ice was found. A good time was enjoyed by all.

Arthur Noyes and family were at Poland last week visiting Mrs. Noyes' father, Leonard Herriock.

Mrs. William Cookson and son Warren of West Paris spent Thursday and Friday at her brother's, Ernest Herriock's.

Sadie Davis and nephew, Ralph Coombs, visited a few days the past week at Austin Hayes' and Peril Whitman's.

NORWAY LAKE.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Pride were at Wilber Pride's, Sunday.

Grace Flood is with her father, Ralph Flood on Frost's Hill.

Grace Thibodeau is visiting her aunts at the Lake this week.

Virgil and Will Flood went to Portland on the excursion July 31.

George Frost has moved from the village into the upper part of E. F. Smith's house.

Chester Flint and Victor Partridge are building a carriage and hen house for J. L. Partridge.

Ethel Kilgore, who has been at her uncle's, Free and Adams of North Norway, returned home Monday.

Mrs. O. M. Cummings of Norway visited her sisters, Mrs. R. W. Knight and Miss E. Partridge, Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred Perry and little daughter Mabel visited her cousin, Annie Larrimer, at the village last week.

Mrs. Samuel Edwards and daughter Anna of Gardiner, who have been visiting at J. L. Partridge's went to Portland Tuesday. Her mother, Mrs. Jesse Partridge, went with them.

EAST STONEHAM.

A Trip to Albany Basins. Friday, Aug. 5, a party from C. L. Bartlett's went on a hay ride to Albany Basins. After a pleasant ride they arrived at the Basin House and started on a pleasant walk to the Basins. After many climbs over the rocks the people assembled in the basin and had their pictures taken. Every one was sorry when it came time to go home. Among those in the party were W. T. Price and wife, C. L. Bartlett and wife, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Husband, Mrs. Collier, the Misses Winslow, Miss Broadhead, Miss Wells, Miss Blamhall, George H. Driver, Anna Price, Clara Frazer, Frances E. Bartlett and Donald Bartlett.

Blueberries are thick in this vicinity. The guests at The Oaks number twenty.

Helen Porter is at work for Mrs. C. L. Bartlett.

Ethel McAllister is at work for Mrs. J. Bartlett.

Leona McKee is working for Mrs. V. H. Littlefield.

It has been unusually warm for the last few weeks.

Why They Read

The Advertiser.

A Voice from The Spruces, Indian Vale, Smith's Mass., July 27, 1904.

MR. F. W. SANBORN, Norway, Me.
MY DEAR SIR:—Replying to your inquiry as to why the ADVERTISER is of interest to me, would state that, notwithstanding my home is now and has been abundantly supplied with daily and weekly papers, yet among them all none do I read with greater interest than the ADVERTISER and for the following reasons, viz.: Away back before the 70's I was a frequent visitor among your much esteemed and hospitable people, also the lovely hills, streams, lakes and grand old mountains, unsurpassed in beauty, some of which to me even rivaling the splendor of Alpine scenery.

It was in those days ago among your people that I formed acquaintances, congenial and of sterling worth; some have passed to the great beyond, names, no doubt familiar to the many readers of the ADVERTISER as that grand old man, uncle Jerry Howe, Jacob Howe, his wife, aunt Polly, Abel Stetson, that thoroughly good honest man, West Sumner people; these and scores of others some living scattered o'er hill and dale, names equally dear to me.

To-day in the columns of the ADVERTISER I read a record of transpiring events in the various towns scattered all the way along as far as Andover, Byron and the Rangeley lakes. Those items form an interesting chapter and keep me in touch with many dear friends and the scenes of by gone days, and it is this that makes your paper, the ADVERTISER, valuable to me and doubly welcome to my beautiful home here in this, your sister state. Very truly,

H. W. SMITH.

All Maine Born People.

Mrs. C. H. Perry, Chestspring, Cambria Co., Pa., says:—"I love the birthplace of my father and mother, J. B. Warren and wife (Mary Ann Kimball) also my own."

We came to Pennsylvania when I was very young, yet my heart still clings to the dear old place. Late years I have visited Lovell, Bethel and Norway where I have some very dear relatives, who always give me a hearty welcome.

The ADVERTISER keeps them also my birthplace very near to me. I hear from them more frequently than I otherwise would.

My husband's father, James Perry, brother of Eben N. Perry of Portland, was born in Porter, my husband in Biddeford so you see we are all Maine people, therefore are interested in Maine news.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bell, Flandreau, S. D., say:—The ADVERTISER is not only one of the best and newest of papers free from political jangles, but is from our own state. We were born in South Waterville nearly 50 years ago and lived there until 25 years ago when we took Greeley's advice and came west.

This a thriving country bound to succeed in everything it takes up.

There have been many changes in the time we have been away but we look for our paper and if we lose one feel lost without it for a week. Any news from the towns of Waterville, Albany, Sweden, Harrison, Bridgton, etc., are of interest to us.

The only way you could improve it for us would be to get more news from our town as all the old places and people are fresh in our minds.

News for a Portion of Two States.

E. L. Tuell, Waterville, Mass., formerly of West Sumner, writes:—I have been asked of what interest your paper is to me and if I were to try and tell all of the many things that interest me it would take too much of your time to read but will speak of a few things. The first and most important to an Oxford county man living out of the state are the local items of which the ADVERTISER is well supplied.

There are so many familiar names as I read that it seems almost like a letter from home. Then it is well interspersed with home advertisements which goes to show that the business men of Oxford county are alive to the fact that it pays to advertise.

It gives court news, short, spicy anecdotes, weddings and engagements held in the immediate vicinity all of which are interesting to me and my family.

We read of the good that men do, now let us see how much good one Norway ADVERTISER does. I receive the paper in Waterville, Mass., Friday morning. The following Sunday I mail it to my father at West Sumner, Maine. So you see one paper gives the Oxford County news to a very small portion of two states. The plain, easy reading style of the print is one of the many reasons of its being so welcome at the "old home."

Things that could be improved upon but I do not feel competent to make any suggestions in that line. Therefore I wish you to understand that I consider the ADVERTISER an interesting, up-to-date country newspaper.

Wants List of Revolutionary Soldiers.

R. A. Martin, 15 Beacon Place, Chelsea, Mass., says:—I take your paper because it brings me news of my boyhood's home. I am a native of Rumford Point, and the ancestors of both my father and mother were among the first settlers of the town. I would suggest this:—If you can print a list of the soldiers who served in the War of the Revolution and who lived and died in the county of Oxford, it would be pleasing and might be considerable assistance to their descendants, who are looking up family history.

The Money Is Acceptable to Us.

C. L. Plummer, Idaho Springs, Colorado, says:—Yours of the 18th received. In reply would say that I was a resident of Oxford County for many years and by having the ADVERTISER every week I get news from people that I used to know from all over the county. I receive the paper every Monday morning. Enclosed please find P. O. order for $1.50, which I think will be better for you than any suggestions I could make to you about running your paper.

A. P. Robertson, Bigelow, Me., says:

You asked why I took the ADVERTISER. My wife and I were both born on Bethel Hill and have lived there, and at West Bethel, and we have worked both in Norway and South Paris. We have been here most four years and the paper is like getting a letter from home.

Mrs. Sarah A. Jillean, Greene, Me., says:—Will say in reply to why I take the ADVERTISER is because I used to live in Otsfield. My father, D. L. Brett lived in Otsfield Gore, always took the ADVERTISER and when I moved to Greene I wanted it as it seems just like a letter, for I have lots of friends in Norway and Otsfield.

The Paper All Right.

Millie Daves, Southport, Conn., says:—I am the only person in this home that reads your paper. The family I am working for are not acquainted with Maine.

2nd, I have lived in Otsfield, Harrison and Oxford. I was brought up in East Otsfield, so am surely interested in reading your paper.

3d, I certainly cannot make any suggestion for the betterment of the paper. It is all right.

P. S. After reading the paper I send it to a friend of mine, Mrs. J. E. in Riverville. She formerly resided in Bolster's Mills, Harrison and Bridgton.

A. W. Fox, Chicago Junction, Ohio, says:—I take the ADVERTISER because Norway was my home. My brother lives on Alpine street and other relatives reside in Lovell. I hear of items through the ADVERTISER which they don't think to write.

Fidella V. Lade, Fort McKinley, Portland, says:—My home was in Norway up to three years ago. I look forward with interest to the coming of the paper. It contains news from home.

Mrs. Eunice Perry Tuck, 81 years of age and born in Plymouth, Ill., last visited Norway in 1850.

I was born in Casco in 1823. My father, Joshua Perry, was a chowhiter in Casco where he spent most of his life. His family consisted of eight children only two living. I have a sister Mrs. Howe in Lovell and one brother, J. W. Perry in Sweden.

I was married in 1848, moved to Lynn, and lived there until I came west. I lived in Norway before my marriage. I was a dressmaker and boarded at Asa Thayer's. My old friends whom I knew then are all dead, but I often see in your paper mention of some of their children or grandchildren. My most intimate friends while there were Frank H. Whitman and Ed. Whitney. I had an aunt and uncle living there, Mr. and Mrs. Twombly, now deceased.

I visited Norway the last time in 1850 and nothing would give me more pleasure than to see the old familiar places again. I came to Plymouth, Ill., in 1855. It was then almost a wilderness, now a prosperous village of 1500 people.

I have eight living children. Three sons are in the boot and shoe business, one son a practicing physician here in Plymouth and two sons are farmers. My two daughters are married, one lives on our farm three miles west of our town, the other lives in Montana.

It has been so many years since I lived in the east that I have forgotten the names of many friends whom I once knew. I enjoy reading in your paper, the weather and crop conditions of that section when such news is printed.

When I lived in Norway the editor was Mr. Plummer. I derive much pleasure from your paper and think it is all right.

Joseph H. Porter, Oshkosh, Wis., says:—I am taking the paper because I am a native of Paris, Me. and have many relatives in that vicinity. The local notes of the paper give me what information I want in regard to the local news and there are frequently items about some of the older residents whom I know. The paper answers the purpose for which I take it very well and I have no suggestion to make in regard to its improvement.

H. L. Pingree, Keeper of Boston Light, Boston Harbor, Mass., says:—I passed my boyhood in Norway and later lived there with my family ten years.

The paper keeps me informed of relatives, neighbors and acquaintances. Although it is more than 18 years since I left Norway, I think I know how things appear in town and the most of the knowledge is gathered from the ADVERTISER.

Friday evening of last week, about 10 o'clock, L. L. McKenney, traveling salesman for a Portland house was held up near the new bridge in Peru and lost $1200 in cash. It was a very dark night, and he was driving in a team, slowly. Just after crossing the bridge the horse stopped, and as Mr. McKenney looked to see the cause, he was hit on the head by some one, this blow followed by another, rendering him unconscious. As soon as he was able, he notified the officers, but no clue has been discovered. The loss was entirely cash, his personal checks and watch not being taken.

A very successful fair was given last Thursday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the Universalist church, netting about $180. An entertainment will be given in the near future for the same purpose.

At the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gehring there was recently held a pleasing entertainment for the benefit of the Ladies' club. There was music, including selections by Miss Burton of New York, accompanied by Miss Belknap of Louisville, Ky.; a lecture on "Emerson as an American," by Dr. D. S. Miller of Harvard University, and readings by Mr. George Brown, principal of the Brown and Nichols school of Cambridge, Mass., all of whom are guests at the Gehring home. There was an hour of social chat and a pleasant evening was passed by all. No admission was asked, but some $20 was voluntarily given for the use of the club.

Shot Himself.

Thursday morning about 9 o'clock Fred A. Robinson shot himself through the head with a revolver at Hotel Atwood in Lewiston. A letter addressed to A. E. Cole of Buckfield gave as reason despondency. He was about 47 or 48 years of age, was a native of Sumner. He was in the hotel business for the larger portion of his life. For several years and up to the time of his wife's death about two years ago was proprietor of Hotel Long in Buckfield. More recently he was proprietor of the Rockingham in Lewiston, and subsequently clerk in Bryant's Pond. He was a member of Nesbitt's Lodge, a Good Faith Rebekah Lodge of Buckfield, and Dixfield Encampment, I. O. O. F., and was insured in the Relief Association. He leaves a son about two years of age.

The First Eyeglasses.

Snakes may almost be said to have glass eyes, inasmuch as their eyes never close. They are without lids and each is covered with a transparent scale, much resembling glass. When the reptile casts its outer skin, the eye scales come off with the rest of the transparent envelope out of which the snake slips.

This glassy eye scale is so tough that it usually protects the true eye from the twigs, sharp grass and other obstructions which the snake encounters in its travels, yet it is transparent enough to allow the most perfect vision. Thus, if the snake has not a glass eye, it may, at any rate, be said to wear eyeglasses.

AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY!

To secure a home near permanent employment.

TINKER BROOK PARK

Located in Gorham, N. H., has recently been opened for the sale of house lots. This territory is within five minutes walk of the Mammoth Mills of the Berlin Mills Co., where hundreds of men are employed, and combines all the advantages of the suburban home with nearness to place of employment. The location is on high ground with good drainage, shade trees, wide streets, and one of the grandest views of the White Mountains obtained in Northern New Hampshire. The recent addition of new property has lowered the rate of taxation in the town of Gorham, this alone making a difference of $100 or more each year in the value of each house and lot.

Price of Lots $75 and up.

This can be paid in monthly installments of $5.
